Protecting & Improving
the Health of Iowans

If you watch a high-wire circus act closely, you'll notice that not only do the performers have a cable attached from the wire to their body, but there's also a safety net below. If the performer falls and the cable malfunctions, the safety net is there to protect the performer. That's a lot like the way the Iowa Collaborative Safety Net Provider Network works. It is intended to "catch" Iowans in danger of falling through the cracks in the health care system.

By focusing on community health centers, rural health clinics, small rural hospitals and free clinics, Iowa Collaborative Safety Net Provider partners are able to reach over 420,000 Iowans who would otherwise lack access to health care because of where they live, cultural differences, or having little or no health insurance. Iowa has 14 federally qualified community health centers, 163 Certified Rural Health Clinics, 31 free clinics and 92 small rural hospitals across the state.

Good health should not be a tightrope walk for any Iowan. The Iowa Collaborative Safety Net Provider Network provides the assurance of access to care.

Did you know? According to American Community Survey (ACS) 5 Year 2011 – 2015 estimate data, 43% of Iowans live in rural areas, with 79 of the 99 Iowa counties considered rural.

Why is the Iowa Collaborative Safety Net Provider Network important to protecting and improving the health of Iowans?

- All Iowans need to be able to get health care within a reasonable time, using primary care services in a timely fashion to prevent more serious health consequences and reduce unnecessary emergency room visits.
- Iowa Collaborative Safety Net Provider Network goals are increased access, health system integration and engagement.
- Safety Net Provider Network services increase access to qualified health professionals and to quality health services for underserved and uninsured Iowans. The Safety Net Provider Network provides needed comprehensive health care services to all Iowans, regardless of ability to pay.
- In the past, free clinics in Iowa were unable to recruit enough professionals to provide free services due to the lack of professional insurance coverage. The Volunteer Health Care Provider program (VHCPP) offers indemnification to volunteer health care providers serving Iowa's free clinics. VHCPP free clinics have served more than 110,000 Iowans since 2010.

▶ Which Iowa Public Health Goals are we working to achieve?

Strengthen the health infrastructure

▶ What do we do?

- Provide funding to and contract management for strengthening the health care delivery system at the local level.
- Assist physician assistants and advanced registered nurse practitioners to participate in a postgraduate medical training program so they can provide services in Iowa's mental health shortage areas.
- Analyze geographic areas of Iowa eligible for CMS-certified Rural Health Clinics.
- Provide indemnification to health care professionals and free clinics through the Volunteer Health Care Provider program. As of September 2017, 340 professionals are enrolled.
- Analyze and identify areas of Iowa for Health Professional Shortage Areas leading to eligibility for loan repayment and enhanced reimbursement from Medicare.

How do we measure our progress?

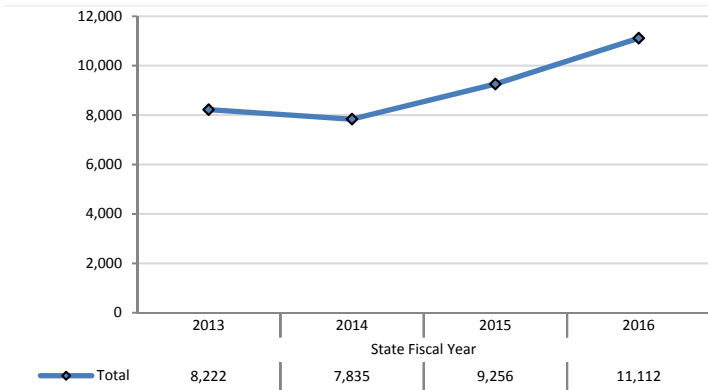

1 Number of Iowans served and encounters by VHCPP professionals.

Data Source: IDPH internal data. Numbers above are approximate numbers provided to IDPH

How are we doing? During calendar Years 2014-2016, the 34 Free Clinics of Iowa had 65,788 patient encounters. Of those, 44% were a first time visit to a Free Clinic. Patients reported that they used the Free clinics because of being uninsured (79%), the cost of health care elsewhere (89%) and being seen for a chronic condition (60%).

2 Number of Iowans served with donations from the Iowa Drug Donation Repository.

Data Source: IDPH internal data

How are we doing? During FY 2016, the Iowa Drug donation Repository received donated medications valued at $3,807,618 and shipped donated medications valued at $3,478,690. Also in FY 2016, the Iowa Drug Donation Repository served 11,112 patients.

What can Iowans do to help?

1. If you or someone you know needs health care services, go to <http://findahealthcenter.hrsa.gov/> to find the health center nearest you.
2. All Iowans can volunteer to help free clinics with grant-writing, fundraising and any general tasks needed to run the clinic.
3. Health care professionals wanting to volunteer at free clinics can visit the VHCPP website at <https://idph.iowa.gov/ohds/iowa-health-workforce/vhcpp>.
