

Iowa Suicide Bereavement Support Groups

The following is a list of adult/adolescent suicide bereavement support groups. This list is provided as support is an important resource for those bereaved by suicide. Suicide bereavement support groups are vital to suicide prevention efforts as well and these groups are identified throughout the Iowa Suicide Prevention Plan 2015-2018. The Iowa Department of Public Health makes these support group lists as a public service and does not run, recommend, endorse, or fund any of the groups listed. In addition, we do not monitor individual groups. We update information on a quarterly basis.

Each of the groups is facilitated by at least one individual that has completed training or has an educational background in counseling that specifically qualifies them to facilitate the group. The group meets at least monthly and has a primary focus of supporting those who are bereaved by suicide. Descriptions of each group include contact information for the group coordinator; meeting location, day, and time; type of facilitator, and age range supported. Each group is provided at no cost unless otherwise noted. If you have questions about this list or to have your group listed, contact Pat McGovern at pat.mcgovern@idph.iowa.gov.

If you need resources or immediate support, please contact Your Life Iowa by calling 855-581-8111, texting 855-895-TEXT(8398), or visiting <https://yourlifeiowa.org/>.
